IMPOTUNATE SPOILSMEN.

Not Potent in the House of Representatives.

The Republican organ is endeavoring to give the impression that the Washington by the Democratic free-keepers is quite unopposed. They are simply not posted on the making of a statement. It is not the House, it is said, was so boiled and badgered that they hardly had time to eat and sleep, and

Lincoln, apparently with the feeling that the country was on the verge of anarchy, loudly exclaimed, "I am not imported to do this, but to do that."

The temple is merely burning at the other end. It took the battle of Bull

Run, with its train of disasters, to drive

these hungry hordes of Northern

NO WAR.

England Backing Down.

The warlike news from England and Russia has changed decidedly the past few days, and it now looks like peaceful negotiations will prevail. England appears to be backing down having recalled Sir Peter Lushington, instead of compelling Russia to recall Gen. Bismarck. Russia holds the advantage. In fact, Russia is so situated by discounts and threatened rebellions in Asia that war is desirable to the Czar to his people. War, with English allies Russia. Peace, disgraces the Czar's empire.

The Louisville Democrat classifies W. B. Wilson, of that city, as one of the three who are competent, among the large number of applicants for the Surveyorship of the Port of Louisville. Capt. Wilson formerly held at Hickman, and we hear some of his friends will endorse him as man of the moral character and excellent business qualifications. His claim for the appointment is said to be good. Capt. W. is not a politician, but a good Democrat and a good business man, and would doubt make an excellent officer if appointed.

An extra session of the Tennessee Legislature is about to be called for June 1. This is rendered necessary by the fact that the members absenting themselves to defeat a registration law. The proposed Tennessee registration law only applies to Nashville, Memphis, Knoxville, Chattanooga and Jackson. Nearly all the States have such laws in force in the cities, and most of them have been passed by the Legislature. Hence the Tennessee Legislature is called to consider the registration law.

The English Government has already withdrawn from the six steamships of the Cunard, Gull and other lines, and is sending the express messengers trains out with the express cars, and robbing the express car of $120,000, then rigging the train down made his collection. The James boys to shame them that have to 6 or 8 assistants. See full details in this paper.

The wife of the Czar is a sister of the Princess of Prussia. The Grand Duke has married Queen Victoria's granddaughter, and the Duke of Prussia is the Czar's sister. It is a regular family quarrel that is brewing. All of which shows that the marriages of reigning families have little influence on the relations of the countries.

Mr. Willis White, of Clinton, was in the city last Thursday en route to Paducah. When about to get aboard the cars two police gentlemen kindly assisted him to mount the steps. While they were being so polite one of them nimble slipped Mr. White's pocket book out of his pocket which contained $22. He did not see them after the train pulled out.—Fulton Fultonian.

"The fellow who asked for a wagon for Jeff Davis probably feels like a wrapped in gloom and becoming as livid as the Ben Butler party. The ex-Confederate President has announced that he doesn't need a pardon, doesn't want a pardon, and wouldn't under any circumstances have a pardon."—Owensboro Inquirer.

Members of the Spanish cholera commission have been vacillating each other with what is supposed to be dilated cholera virus. It is only recently ascertained that it is that cholera virus, pretty rare and slightly sick. Whether or not it affords any protection against the disease is still as far from being determined as ever.

If war comes there is likely to be a coal famine about St. Petersburg and in Eastern Russia. Russia has plenty of undeveloped coal, but it is a long way from her coast. England has been obliged to call on the Baltic ports of Russia, and that trade will of course stop with the war.

A DUEL.

Col. A. W. Hamilton and Hon. W. P. Kimball.

Special to the Courier-Journal. LEICESTER, April 20.—The Leicester Gazette yesterday contained a card from Col. A. W. Hamilton, stating that Hon. W. P. Kimball, Representative from Fayette county in the Legislature, was a candidate for re-election, and that he was a supporter of the Republican cause. The Gazette further stated that the Hamiltons were getting along quite well and happily. The Confederacy is not in the saddle, but peacefully at home and at work, and after the first day of Democratic rule are attended by the largest majority in the history of the State. ### What to Do With Mammals.

The three Massachusetts men who organized the anti-slavery movement in 1833, and who have since been active in the cause, have obtained a charter from the State Legislature to form a company to do the same good work in Utah. They mean to effect the abolition of slavery, and to secure the free emigration, as well as the free settlement of the territory. Of the one hundred thousand who are in Cleveland, nearly one-half are not affected by the civil service law. The statistics show that about fourteen thousand are in the territory of which Cleveland is the center. ### War Between Prussia and Russia.

The war of prevention begun by Capt. Shields, of the Clinton Democrat, has been taken up by Editor Francis of the Wichita Tribune. The fight for the masses against the slave is still a live one. Here is the Tribune man's warble: "Mr. W. H. Bradley sometime ago lost a calf from a gang of several, which he hunted for quite a while. He was not successful. A few days ago he went to the field to turn his calves into the pasture. He found that a stray calf where the calves had been feeding all winter had followed him, and he was away from being determined as ever.

THE LOVE OF POWER AND PRE-SENSEMENT.

From the Courier-Journal.

OF Gen. Alpheus Baker, of this city, but formerly a citizen of Indiana, a lawyer by profession, and a man of great sweetness of disposition and power, the following incident is related: He owned a slave called Paris before the war and at the time the first gun fired on Sumter. The slave was a large negro, very dark in complexion, six feet two inches tall, and correspondingly large in frame, making a perfect specimen of manhood physically. The General followed him home and family to the fort. The General followed him home and family to the fort. The General followed him home and family to the fort.

EDITORIAL TRANSCRIPT.

My friend, I am sorry to hear that you are determined to force the fight against us to the last extremity, and I am ready and willing that such shall be the result. In my former reply to Mr. Hamilton I stated that "as to Gen. Hamilton or his friends furnishing any money to secure my election, I claim all knowledge, and if such was done it was a matter with which I had no connection, and any man who charges that I did, I repeat, I am a slave-driver, and goes out of his way to prove it." I am sorry to hear that you are determined to force the fight against us to the last extremity, and I am ready and willing that such shall be the result.

The Cholera Epidemic.

The eminent physician, Dr. Hamilton, is of the opinion that the great cause is highly essential to preserve health during the summer months there is no special reason for thinking that the cholera epidemic which devastated the country last season will reach the American shores this season. The Memphis Avalanche makes the following comment: "We are glad to find no distinguished physician as Dr. Hamilton is in the city. He is a man of great ground for fear of a summer visit. No mortal can assume to predict the course of the epidemic, but there was nothing in the last epidemic to warrant fear. Take it altogether it was a very trivial matter, and only of moment because of the character of the disease, and not because of the character of the particular epidemic. Judging from 1853 we have as much reason to fear that when it has not prevailed in Europe as when it has prevailed at a few points, failing to become a widespread epidemic. The facts as to last summer's cholera are rather rather to warrant the belief that it has run its course like the rest of the great plagues and ceased to be a great pest except where peculiar conditions give it local hold."

Graves County Items.

Graves County Items. We heartily endorse what you say in reference to Graves County Court of Claims who throw up papers and matters. I think you have said squarely on the head. These resolutions are a great improvement on some little ones now circulating. We are sure that the poor man has to try again. We are yours to command. Farlington, Ky.

A CARD.

MR. EDITOR: Permit me through your paper to express my sincere appreciation of the kindness of friends who have written to me and personally have solicited me to become a candidate for Jatter. Under different circumstances I should cheerfully comply with the request, but my business affairs are such as to compel me to decline. I am sincerely grateful for the kindness offered, and shall be glad to give the same respect and return such evidence of friendship. JOHN S. BELT.

OUR RAILROAD.

DEPTO TO BE ON THE HILL.

The appearance of the locality about the railroad depot and grounds has undergone a radical change this week, the tracks leading to the depot having been taken up to a point near the pump factory. This movement was proposed by the business interests of the town, and, temporarily at least, inconveniences our railroad passengers very considerably. For the present the depot is to be near the pump factory, and the business interests of the town, and, temporarily at least, inconveniences our railroad passengers very considerably.
